Circles of Reflection is designed to engage a community of advocates for Native students by identifying what currently exists, what needs to exist, and then initiating action.

WHAT IS CIRCLES OF REFLECTION?

Circles of Reflection is an adaptable facilitated framework for building collaboration between organizations such as state education agencies (SEAs), local education agencies (LEAs), and tribal education departments (TEDs) to support Native students’ education and well-being. The Circles focus on six overarching categories that can be modified to fit the unique needs of the region.

They include:
- Native culture and language
- Tribal consultation and sovereignty
- Effective teachers and leaders
- College and career readiness and access
- Physical and behavioral health
- Identification of promising programs and practice

MORE FROM THE NATIVE EDUCATION COLLABORATIVE

In addition to the Circles of Reflection, the Native Education Collaborative website also includes synthesized literature reviews, infographics, and a directory of relevant resources.